We might just as well try to stop next month from coming as to get Billy to drop his "Oh gee's" and "Oh, boy," and "You bet."

Of course we may be able to cut the average in two and reduce his expletives to two a minute instead of ten, but it is as natural for a spirited boy to use slang as it is for him to breathe. We must not get too blue-nosed or blue-blooded or just blue about it. It's a waste of time and very good energy—for us.

There is, however, too much slang today. Not slang exactly, but smart quips, distorted words and a silly gumbo of slush that doesn't mean anything. It is a sort of "slum" comprised of gangster lingo, movie left-overs, and ha-ha writings that tickle the ear but don't make sense. If a radio comedienne repeats any dumb word often enough the dictionary has to be instantly revised, for a hundred million people pick it up and there it is to stay in our midst for archaeologists to try and analyze five thousand years hence.

Real English Neglected

My greatest objection to slang is not its vulgarity, but its tendency to crowd out real English. If any one ever says to me again, "It's up to you," I think I'll croak. If he tells me his new car cost "a grand," I am sure to pass out, and if he says "He's on the spot," I'll cash in.

Then if he brags about his newest blonde being a "wow", or his "giggle being a stepper," and says he's "carrying a torch" for her, I won't be here to hear it.

As a matter of fact, neither I nor many of my vintage can follow the conversation of about half the young people today. One gets "high" when he isn't quite drunk, or "cornered" when he is. A boy with a new job is being "weaned." A girl with a new dress buys a "hugger."

Induces Mental Apathy

However, catch words such as these aren't my real trouble. My weariness is caused by the mental laziness of people in thinking up real words. It is so much easier to say, "Oh, yeah!" or "Hot dog!" than to prod one's brain into action —easier to say "Sez you," or "C'm up, some time," than to make a real answer to a remark. Evasion, lack of wit, snoring brains! The slangier we get as a people, the dumber we become.

I could stand almost anything if it were original and showed that the author's blood supply above the neck hadn't been cut off. I knew one young chap who says, "Believe you me," to everything. Some time I shall have to hunt up my Maxim Silencer, a broom, and maybe he'll believe me then, that people are sick and tired of him.

Slang isn't so bad as the mental apathy behind it. Third edition slang is seldom funny. It is a bore and a "cold pancake" to me. I hope it's "nerts to you" too, so that you can discourage your young "janes" and "guys" from going clear dingled.

RETURN PARTNER'S SUIT

Declarer Makes Small Slam when Opponent Fails to Attack Hand in Conventional Manner

Solution to Previous Contract Problem

BY WM. E. McKENNEY
Secretary, American Bridge League

It generally pays to return your partner's suit. He has attacked the hand at what he believes to be its most vulnerable point. For you to give up his line of attack and start one of your own may subject both of you to a squeeze play later on.

Today's hand is an interesting example. If East fails to return his partner's suit, after winning the first trick, the declarer can make a small slam.

West's opening lead was the four of hearts. Declarer played low from dummy, allowing East to win the first trick with the king. East, instead of returning his partner's suit, decided to lead to the weakness in dummy—the club suit—and it was this play which allowed the declarer to make a small slam in the following manner.

The club trick was won with the ace, the king immediately cashed, and the nine spot ruffed. The king of spades was played, and then the seven of spades. South won the trick with the jack, and West dropped the jack of clubs.

Four rounds of spades were taken, declarer retaining the jack of hearts and the ace and queen of diamonds. On the fourth spade, West was squeezed. He couldn't hold both queen and ten of hearts and king and ten of diamonds—he had to drop one of the ten spots.

If he dropped the ten of hearts, the declarer would win two heart tricks in dummy with ace and nine, discarding his queen of diamonds; while if the ten of diamonds were discarded by a West, it would make the declarer's ace and queen of diamonds good.

JOHNSON CLAIMS HE IS READY TO BATTLE FOR NRA

LAUNCHES ATTACK ON BORAH, NYE AND OTHER CRITICS IN ADDRESS BEFORE RETAILER GROUP.

Washington.—(AP)— Further retaliatory outbursts in the senate against the NRA today appeared a certainty as a result of notice served by Hugh S. Johnson, the recovery administrator, that he was ready to do battle for his ideas.

Critics of the NRA—and Johnson apparently pointed at least in part to the two Republican independents who led yesterday's attack in the senate—were scored by the administrator Thursday night in a New York speech filled with colorful language.

Johnson dealt at length with the question of monopolies and profiteering, the focal point of criticism by Senators Borah of Idaho and Nye of North Dakota yesterday. He did not name them, but said:

Did Not "Sit In"

"I asked the very gentlemen who are now concerning themselves with this kind of problem to sit in here and try to see that only good results. They did not accept.

"I believe that they preferred to sit aside and conjecture evil. So long as they both shall live they will have to answer as to why they did not consent."

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt arranged to outline his own recovery plans before a meeting of the 48 state directors of the national executive council called by Director Frank C. Walker last night for January 31.

Nye made mention Thursday of a possible inquiry into the NRA. An eventual congressional investigation is generally expected in Washington, but there has been no certainty as to whether the legislators would feel like trying it this year, with the elections of next fall impending. Johnson's address was regarded as notice that he was ready for it.

Addresses Retailers

New York—(AP)—With barbed comment and biting phrase, Hugh S. Johnson struck out Thursday night at congressional critics of the NRA. He spoke before the largest crowd ever to attend a dinner of National Retail Dry Goods association.

General Johnson made his speech an answer to all the critics of the recovery program, dealing his heaviest blows at Senators Borah and Nye, and the federal trade commission. He did not mention the senators by name, however.

"Keep prices down," he said. "For God's sake, keep prices down. That, and that alone, is the royal road to recovery. And that recovery is on its way."

Saying there was an effort under way to repeal the recovery act, he promised to oppose it "as long as breath within me lies."

"Some of this will be by a senator whom I love for his intestinal fortitude perhaps more than any senator other than Carter Glass, but I shall oppose him in this paradox," he declared.

Substitute Trade Commission

His reference was to Senator Borah of Idaho.

"It will be an attempt to put into the act about three lines forbidding action by an industry in unison, and in effect, substituting the federal trade commission for the NRA."

Johnson said the commission had been created to do what the NRA is now to do, "but against the background of law saying to industry 'if you act in unison you will be hung, drawn and quartered.'

"Industry naturally asked, 'what can we do?' and the reply to that is, in effect, 'that is a secret. Go ahead and act.'

"Even the actual practice of asking what industry had done was an economic Spanish inquisition or a Mark Twain version of the trial of Joan of Arc, and the net result was failure of the original purpose, dismal and complete, and, in my opinion at least, a negative cause of the depression."

Six Million Farm Credit Now Given

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 19—(AP)—Farmers in four northwest states, in danger of losing their lands through foreclosure or eviction, have been aided by $6,000,000 in farm credit administration loans during the last two months and a half.

Are report today to Leo T. Crowley, general agent of the farm credit administration in the seventh land bank district, which includes Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin and upper Michigan, showed 2,391 emergency cases had been acted upon during the period.

The allowances made to farmers in the emergency cases, by states, were: Wisconsin $2,381,900; North Dakota $1,149,490; Michigan $1,821,200; and Minnesota $1,821,200.

Shoe Co. Employees In Milwaukee Strike

Milwaukee, Jan. 19—(AP)—About 300 employes of the Huth & James Shoe Manufacturing company were on a strike today, demanding a 25-per cent increase in wages and better working conditions, and about 200 employes of the Weyenberg Shoe Manufacturing company have authorized a representative to present similar demands to their employers. Picketing at the Huth & James company plant began yesterday. The Weyenberg company employes authorized J. C. McMorrow, organizer of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, to represent them at a meeting last night.

Edward G. Bremer, member of one of the leading families of St. Paul, Minn., and president of the Commercial State bank, who was seized by kidnapers shortly after he had taken his 8-year-old daughter to school. The gang demanded $200,000 for his release.

SENATE URGES MARKET PROBE

JOINT RESOLUTION ASKS WALLACE TO CORRECT ABUSES IN BUYING OF HOGS AT TERMINALS.

Madison, Wis.—(AP)—The senate today adopted a joint resolution asking Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to correct alleged abuses in the purchase of hogs on terminal markets.

The resolution, introduced by Senator E. J. Gehrmann, Melleo, said direct buying by packers results in a depressed market with farmers as the victims.

In the direct buying plan, packers purchase the best hogs from the farmer direct. As a result, poor quality hogs dominate the offerings at the terminal markets, thus creating a low market price.

The senate concurred in the Wegner resolution for a referendum, at the April, 1934 elections, on the question of establishing a state old age pension fund. According to the resolution, funds for the pension would be raised by a tax on labor saving machinery.

The senate concurred in the Balzer resolution asking Governor Schmedeman to permit the legislature to vote on a proposal to extend the deadline for the payment of auto license fees.

The Ingebretson-Zantow resolution providing that there shall be no reductions in the appropriations which were voted as state aids to municipalities by the 1933 legislature was killed 15 to 9 after opponents contended the measure would "ham-string" the emergency board.

Those Asking Aid Placed on Relief Work

Stevens Point, Wis.—Portage county residents who have applied for relief since November 19, 1933, and all new applicants for relief will be assigned to work relief projects as a means of working out the cost of food, clothing, rent, fuel and other necessities supplied them, it has been announced by C. E. Nebel, county relief director.

The rate of pay on county work relief projects will be 35 cents an hour, 15 cents an hour less than the C. W. A. wage scale for common labor. No cash will be paid to persons working on work relief jobs, but their wages will be credited toward their relief accounts.

The number of hours a man will work on county projects will be determined by the amount of relief received. Mr. Nebel explained that the work relief system has been set up in Portage county because the C. W. A. does not permit employment on civil works projects of persons placed on county relief lists since November 19. All able-bodied applicants for relief must work on the county projects in return for the amount of aid received, Mr. Nebel stated.

Permission has been secured from Tom Utegaard, Wisconsin Rapids, regional C. W. A. director, to put work relief crews on civil works projects where such projects are undermanned. Men placed on such jobs under the work relief program will earn 35 cents an hour, to be paid by the county in the form of supplies, although they will be working side by side with C. W. A. employees who are receiving 50 cents an hour in cash, said Mr. Nebel. "How this plan will work out we don't know, but we're going to give it a fair trial," he said.

In Justice Court

The case of State versus Wilbur Ringelman, city, was dismissed in Judge E. N. Pomainville's court Wednesday afternoon and the defendant was discharged upon motion of District Attorney C. M. Pors. Ringelman had been charged with willfully refusing and neglecting to provide for the support and maintenance of an illegitimate child. The court dismissed the case because of lack of evidence. H. A. Bunde signed the complaint. District Attorney Charles M. Pors appeared for the state, and Hugh Goggins for the defendant.

FRENCH DEPUTIES NEAR TWO DUELS

CHARGES GROWING OUT OF STAVISKY SCANDAL BRING FOUR DEPUTIES TO BLOWS IN CHAMBER.

Paris—(AP)— Two duels involving deputies appeared imminent today. Both were results of the Stavisky scandal.

A Negro member of the chamber of deputies, Joseph Amuel Lagrosilliere of Martinique, slapped Deputy Besire Ferry, the editor of the newspaper La Liberte, twice in the face, in the lobby of the chamber this morning.

Lagrosilliere said he understood Ferry had coupled his name with perjury charges in connection with the collapse of Serge Stavisky's Bayonne pawnshop and the resultant loss to investors of $40,000,000.

Ferry replied to the slaps with a punch in the jaw.

Planned Other Duel

Before these two deputies came to blows, however, seconds for two other notables met in the chamber to decide which of their principals had been offended in another argument.

They represented Antole De Monzie, minister of education, and Deputy Philippe Henriot.

Ferry, however, did not leave the matter of whether he should duel up to any one else. He immediately chose his seconds two fellow deputies, Joseph Laniel and Marcel Heraud, and instructed them to present his formal challenge at once.

A few moments later he reversed his personal decision, announcing he had decided that the "judicial antecedents" of Lagrosilliere could not permit their meeting on the field of honor and that, therefore, he Deputy Ferry, had decided to complain to the courts.

"Smoothed" Over

The De Monzie-Henriot challenging likewise had its ups and downs. The seconds smoothed everything over to their own satisfaction, deciding that the official text of a speech Henriot had made yesterday in the chamber showed that he really had not insulted De Monzie.

Henriot had asserted that Madame Stavisky, the widow of the pawnshop founder, was arrested for robbery in 1926 and that De Monzie paid her a call in jail. His companion in the call, he continued, was Joseph Paul-Boncour, who today is foreign minister of France.

All Henriot had to do, the second decided, was to retract his statement.

But Henriot refused to retract anything. De Monzie, therefore, insisted preparations for the duel go on.

Employes Benefit Group Here Holds Annual Luncheon

The annual luncheon of the outgoing and incoming boards of trustees of the Employes Benefit Association of the Consolidated Mill was held at the Elk's club Thursday noon. Covers were laid for 30—representatives of the Ahdawagam plant, the local mill, and the Biron, Stevens Point and Appleton divisions. E. B. Redford, representing the general management and Ralph Cole and J. W. Franson, auditors were also present. The Elk's club orchestra furnished music during the luncheon.

J. J. Plzak, superintendent of the association, opened the later program with a statistical talk on the progress of the E. B. A. in the past year. Phillip Vogt of Appleton, outgoing chairman and Sam Craig, newly elected chairman, each favored with a few remarks.

Entertainment of a lighter vein was provided by Leo Barrette who spoke on "Wild Life in Africa as Shown at the World's Fair" and J. B. Purves who told of interesting experiences on a recent trip to Europe. Clarence Jackson gave a demonstration of various plays at the billiard tables.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

Dry skin requires very special care. If your complexion comes in that category, by all means take immediate steps to remedy it. Excessive dryness causes premature wrinkles, scaliness and all sorts of unpleasant conditions of the skin.

First of all, if you know that your skin lacks natural oil the best thing for you to do is to put oil into the pores and tissues.

You need a muscle oil and a reliable tissue cream. And always cleanse your face with cleansing cream, followed by a mild skin tonic instead of using soap and water.

A good nightly treatment for dry skin takes only a few minutes and will prove beneficial.

When your face and neck have been cleaned with cream and then patted by a cotton pad dipped in skin tonic, smooth on a few drops of muscle oil. Then apply tissue cream generously and, with upward and outward strokes, smooth and massage it right into your skin. When you have finished, go to bed, leaving the cream and oil on all night.

In the morning, clean the face with cream and skin tonic and then put on a good foundation lotion. You can get one which will not dry the complexion and will protect it from dust, dirt, wind, sun and the like.

Use a powder which contains no lead filling or other ingredients which tend to dry out the skin.

—You have never seen such beauty in Radio Cabinets as is being shown in Genuine Brunswicks at Gamble Stores. They will be the envy of your neighborhood. $20.00 to $25.00 for your old set.—Advertisement.

Flashes of Life

By the Associated Press

Will Hear Now

Hollywood.—A bit irked because repeated attempts to get an electrician to repair her door bell had failed, May Robson, stage and screen star, hung a cow bell on the door.

Real Trophy

Hollywood.—One of the trophies Clyde Elliott brought back from India where he went recently to shoot an animal film is a stuffed crocodile 17 feet long. When he shot it Elliott estimated it weighed 800 pounds and was about 100 years old. In its intestines they found a Calcutta dog's license, dated 1889, and a silver watch.

Names Stabilization Fund

Washington.—The proposed stabilization fund contemplated in the president's monetary bill received a new name today in debate over when the house is to consider the measure.

Representative Mc Fadden, Pennsylvania Republican, wanted to know:

"What is the appropriation in this bill? Is it that $2,000,000,000 kitty in the pot?"

HAVEN'T you noticed that your happiest hours occur on days when you feel your best?

Have more of these happy days. You and all your family. Guard health while you have it. Keep on the sunny side of life.

The greatest enemy of health is common constipation. It may cause loss of appetite and energy. Certainly it kills enthusiasm! Yet it can be banished by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" and vitamin B to relieve common constipation. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much pleasanter to eat this delicious ready-to-eat cereal than to take patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
